Principal's Welcome

Our aim is
"To nurture what is native to the soul"

Our approach
"Mol an óige agus tiocfaidh sí"

John Gorman
PRINCIPAL

Dear all,

At a time of crisis we truly get to see what we are all made of. The last few years have certainly tested our school community with many challenging moments and events.

What has been abundantly clear in all that time is how our school community rises to each and every challenge. The lockdown last March really showed how committed and adaptable both our staff and students have been.

Over 80% of our students attended online classes daily and our staff delivered those in a way that only about 8% of second level schools across the country could do so. The continuous pursuit of best practice and drive for school improvement means many of our students and staff are at the cutting edge of education provision. This is exemplified in the many pictures and projects showcased in this document since March and throughout our opening term.

Our students and staff are constantly working to improve and our school improvement newsletter seeks to showcase this. There is a phrase that often sticks in the mind "make every day your masterpiece", this is very evident in what our wonderful school community is currently delivering. Much of it is innovative and world class.

Stay safe and take care,

John Gorman
Principal

Autumn Newsletter - October 2020

Deputy Principal's Welcome

A Chairde,

I hope that you and your family are doing well and are staying safe and well at this very strange time. Little did we know when we released our last newsletter at Easter what lay ahead for us all. I am delighted that we are now back in school and back to some sort of stability and normality for our students, staff and our families. It is very important that our students have the opportunity to attend school and meet with their peers and their teachers.

In saying that, our students excelled in adapting to the situation thrust upon them, and we, as a staff, could not be more proud of their achievements. Our students showed their resilience, their ingenuity and their ability to persevere in such difficult times.

In our first term back at school, we have all had to get used to a new way of working and of studying. Our students have closely followed all of the public health guidelines and have made our jobs so much easier. I would like to thank you all for this.

Although we have had to restrict our daily activities, students have continued to find unique ways to express their creativity and unique abilities.

I would also like to congratulate our school committees, who continue to work on improving our day to day experience and the service we offer for the benefit of all at the Rosses Community School.

Le gach dea-ghuí,

Dáire Gillen
Deputy Principal

School Management reminding students of our collective role in staying safe.

Keeping our school safe 👍

We all wish to protect our school community and our families and loved ones. In order to do so we have to do our level best to ensure that the protocols for doing so are followed, both inside and outside the school. We will all work closely together to ensure we maintain a healthy and hygienic work environment.

Key things to remember:

- Regular hand washing and sanitising being a vital part of our daily school and home routine.
- Observing cough and sneeze etiquette at all times.
- Daily washing and changing of clothes.
- Face masks are mandatory where 2m distance cannot be accommodated.
- Ensuring we do not present for school if displaying any Covid symptoms or feeling unwell.
- Consult with your GP regularly if you have underlying conditions.
- Arrangements will be put in place for those not in a position to attend.

School based regimes for keeping high levels of hygiene:

- All staff and students will clean their work stations immediately after use.
- Students will use their own materials only, to avoid the possibility of transmission.
- School and facilities will be cleaned on a daily basis, using the appropriate products, by cleaning and caretaking staff.
